

The technical requirements for an amateur radio license I believe should be elevated. Both technically and in the International code requirements. To leave the requirements at the present degraded levels, or to further reduce them will only produce another citizens band. I support the code requirement for General and Extra class licenses.